STATUS OF MILITARY FORCES NEAR THE SINO-SOVIET BORDER

A search of all portions of the Sino-Soviet Border covered on [REDACTED] was accomplished in accordance with the prescribed procedure of analysing each new mission in an attempt to determine possible changes in the type or level of military activity occurring within a 150 nm radius of the border.

[REDACTED] provided coverage of approximately 5 percent of the Sino-Soviet Border area. Cloud cover, darkness, and small scale precluded an analysis of some of the areas photographed within 150 nm of the border. Significant items of interest are listed numerically by WAC.

WAC 243

KO-LA-MA-I COMPLEX (CHINA) (45 16N-084 42E approximate)

Activity in and around the Ko-La-Ma-i Complex continues at a high level. Extensive oil exploration and production activity is continuing throughout the area since photography [REDACTED] A large amount of unidentified equipment is located in the southern part of the complex---probably related to oil exploration and production. Small scale and poor quality photography preclude a more detailed analysis for possible military activity. [REDACTED]

WAC 286

ULAN BATOR SAM SITE (MONGOLIA) (47 55N-106 49E)

A new SAM site is located 3.9 nm west of Ulan Bator. Occupancy of the site is undetermined because of the small scale and poor quality of the photography. [REDACTED]

WAC 330

URUMCHI NEW AIRFIELD (CHINA) (44 00N-087 approximate)

This new airfield, previously reported from photography of [REDACTED] appears to be operational to some extent. A possible CRATE aircraft is parked at one end of the runway on [REDACTED] photography. Runway support facilities are still under construction. [REDACTED]
